Loch Broom is but one of the many jewels in Scotland's Western Highlands. Drawn by its history and _____, my husband and I took our three children, ages 9 to 12, for a week of _____ in this wild and beautiful part of Scotland. We rented a self-catering cottage which _____ space with a few houses and a large audience of sheep. For a day of complete serenity, one has _____ to walk the narrow roads to receive a friendly wave or perhaps an invitation to view a garden. Before long, you feel as _____ you too could speak Gaelic. The friendly residents will _____ recommend favourite restaurants or the local museum which skillfully tells the story of the place. Our family felt great satisfaction _____ we discovered we were the only Americans to have stayed there. For us, it was a new discovery in a country full _____ new discoveries and a true home away from home.

John Glenn was the first American to orbit the earth in 1962. The mission lasted for just short of 5 hours and Glenn was strapped to his seat the entire time, never (experience/ experienced / experiencing) weightlessness. Thirty-six years later, on October 29, 1998 (over / aboard / by) the Space Shuttle Discovery, John Glenn became the oldest person (go / went / to go) into space at the age of 77 years old. The mission lasted for 9-days and this time John Glenn (did / had / can) experience weightlessness in space. NASA scientists have stated that Glenn's space trip has offered them (available / evitable / valuable) insight into the impact of such trips on the same person in two different points (in / at / on) time. Most of the experiments that John Glenn was involved in on the STS-95 mission have shown the impacts of space (flight / flying / flies) on the elderly. John Glenn was, in fact, the first non-paying space tourist and the oldest one at that; (despite / while / when) Dennis Tito is the first paying space tourist.
